*Change of curriculum effective spring 2009 will be dual entered in SIMS/Compass by the Office of the Registrar.

†During February 2009 training, users will learn to change curriculum in Compass. Any curriculum changes effective in summer will need to be dual entered—summer in SIMS, fall in Compass. Users will also learn to add/remove registration blocks (called “holds” in Compass) during February training.

Timing of curriculum changes is expected to change in Compass. Students needing to be in a particular major in order to register for classes need only be in that major during the semester for which they are registering. This differs from SIMS, as SIMS requires the student be in the required major at the time of registration.
